James 1:17

Mission Statement:

Giving HOPE to the hopeless, that HOPE
being Jesus Christ!

LifeCycle of Life: Embrace The Change
(condensed version)

It all begins with the courtship and then the wedding. Then those wonderful years of being Newlywed, and beginning a shared life together. Then, for some, soon God blesses your family with an addition (s). And your life gets even fuller. School activities, soccer, PTA meetings, family vacations, nightly Bible Studies, tea parties, and dressing your dog up for a "dog style show" are all a part of your daily life. But, that 300 yd drive, is now a 260 yd on a good day...but it's a lot straighter.

If there are no children as of yet, life is filled with a whole different form of 'busy'. Friends, nieces & nephews, other family connections, personal growth goals, "Church" involvement...all busy up our days and weekends.

Then one day those little pitter patters of feet turn into a full grown pair of feet leaving for college or off to their work choices. Things change. Still busy, but it's a different kind of busy.

Either it's chasing grandkids around supporting them, or the chasing of our adopted families' kids. Church involvement begins to change too. Our interest change as well. What used to be where our participation was essential, becomes "hope you can come". Always welcome, but now not really the essential element. Things change

The interesting thing is that through all these changes, there are some constants. 1. God's love for us, 2. His desire for us to serve Him, 3. our Church family, and 4. our opportunity to share Jesus through our own lives (whatever the stage).

Change doesn't have to be scary, depressing, or dreaded. Live each stage and each day to it's fullest. Allow each day to prepare us for what is to come. And embrace the change. Because it's ALL just preparing us for the biggest change yet to come....the day we are taken to our eternal heavenly home.
