Homecoming

In few weeks Ruth and I get to go ‘home’ to Mineral Wells where we grew up as a couple. (spent about 12 years there or so). We love going ‘home’, seeing people we haven’t seen in years and years, laughing about old times, remembering those who have passed, and loving on the ones who have born since we were there.. Going ‘home’ just feels right.

Over the past several months we have said goodbye to several our loved ones. Brothers and Sisters in Christ, who we have worked with, worshipped with, grown with, and bonded together...all brought together by the common thread of the blood of Christ. Each one of them brought a special blessing to each of us, as I pray we were to them.

Their lives on this earth is now over, but it only becomes an avenue for the greatest door of all times to be open unto them....the door is opened for them to go home where the perishable is exchanged for the imperishable.

We all know that this life is temporary at best (a tent dwelling). At times we can kind of expect their passing...at other times it takes us by total surprise. But death has no sting to these people, for they have lived their whole lives in preparation for this “door opening”.

To Dale, Scott, and Mark (and many others).....we say our goodbyes from this side of the door...their memories never fading away. And to my loved ones still on this side of the door with me, I say.....“If we don’t see each other again down here, I’ll see you up there.”

Till then we will look forward to that time when God says....“It’s time for you to come home.” Until then, let’s live each day to His glory. Love you--like you, Scott
